NOVA® Home Loans FACT Act RED FLAG Disclosure

PURPOSE- The purpose of the NOVA®'s Red Flag Identity Theft Plan is to provide information to assist individuals in detecting, preventing, and mitigating identity theft in connection with the opening of a "covered account" or any existing "covered account".

BACKGROUND OF RED FLAG RULES- In 2003, the U.S. Congress enacted the Fair and Accurate Credit Transaction Act of 2003 (FACT Act) which required the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) to issue regulations requiring "creditors" to adopt policies and procedures to prevent identity theft. In 2007, the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) issued a regulation known as the Red Flag Rule. The rule requires "financial institutions" and "creditors" holding "covered accounts" to develop and implement a written identity theft prevention program designed to identify, detect and respond to “Red Flags.”

DEFINITIONS

Covered Accounts- Credit cards, checking/savings accounts, car loans, cell phone service, utilities, margin accounts, and mortgage loans.

Creditors- Organizations that regularly extend, renew, or continue credit; companies that make arrangements to extend, renew or continue credit; and assignees of companies who extend, renew, continue credit. Examples are finance companies, utility companies; automobile dealers, telecommunication companies, mortgage brokers and mortgage lenders.

Identifying Information- Any name or number that may be used alone or in conjunction with any other information to identify a specific person.

Personal Information- This information includes an individual’s first name or first initial and his or her last name in combination with any one or more of the following data elements, when either the name or the data elements are not encrypted or redacted: Social Security Number, driver’s license/state identification card number, health insurance information, medical information, or financial account number such as credit card number, in combination with any required security code, access code, or password that would permit access to an individual’s financial account or identity.

Identity Theft- A fraud committed or attempted using the identifying information of another person without authority.

Red Flags- Alerts, discrepancies, warnings, variance, or unusual activity or pattern that is noticed by the creditor

IDENTIFICATION OF RED FLAGS

Broad categories of “Red Flags” include the following:

*Alerts – alerts, notifications, or warnings from a consumer reporting agency including fraud alerts, credit freezes, or official notice of address discrepancies.

*Suspicious Documents – such as those appearing to be forged or altered, or where the photo ID does not resemble its owner or an application which appears to have been cut up, re-assembled and photocopied.

*Suspicious Personal Identifying Information – such as discrepancies in address, Social Security Number, or other information on file; an address that is a mail-drop, a prison, or is invalid; a phone number that is likely to be a pager or answering service; personal information of others already on file; and/or failure to provide all required information.

*Notice from Others Indicating Possible Identify Theft – such as the institution receiving notice from a victim of identity theft, law enforcement, or another account holder reports that a fraudulent account was opened.

DETECTION OF RED FLAGS

Detection of Red Flags in connection with the opening of covered accounts as well as existing covered accounts can be made through such methods as:

- *Obtaining and verifying identity through provided documentation, credit report, and Social Security Administration
- *Authenticating customers

RESPONSE TO RED FLAGS

The detection of a Red Flag by an employee shall be reported to the Management Team, Compliance Officer and their appropriate administrator. Based on the type of red flag, the appropriate administrator, Management Team and Compliance Officer together with the employee will determine the appropriate response.

SERVICE PROVIDERS

NOVA® remains responsible for compliance with the Red Flag Rules even if it outsources operations to a third party service provider. The written agreement between NOVA® and the third-party service provider shall require the third party to have reasonable policies and procedures designed to detect relevant Red Flags that may arise in the performance of their service provider's activities. The written agreement must also indicate whether the service provider is responsible for notifying only NOVA® of the detection of a Red Flag or if the service provider is responsible for implementing appropriate steps to prevent or mitigate identify theft.

TRAINING

All employees who process any information related to a covered account shall receive training following appointment on the procedures outlined in this document. Refresher training will be provided annually.
